Description

A rare and highly decorative pair of Rozenburg Den Haag Art Nouveau vases, each of identical cylindrical form with flared rim on a square base. Hand-painted in vibrant polychrome with birds and blossoming flowers, finished with the renowned transparent “eggshell” glaze for which Rozenburg became famous. Both vases are marked to the base with the Rozenburg Den Haag factory stamp (crown and stork), and show consecutive numbers (276, 298) indicating their sequence in a limited series, along with decorators’ marks. Pieces of this quality can be found in important museum collections, including the Rijksmuseum and Kunstmuseum Den Haag, and are prized by collectors for their rarity and artistry. Dimensions: Height 22.5 (weight 733 grams, the inside of the vase is darker) and 23 cm (weight 638 grams), rim diameter of both vases is 13 cm. Condition: Both vases have chips to the upper and lower rims (see photos), as well as age-related crazing and minor wear. No restoration. Please study the accompanying photographs carefully as they form an integral part of this description. If you have any questions, we will be happy to answer them. The item will be shipped with full tracking and...
