Description

Stunning Large Japanese Cloisonne Enamel "Dragon" Charger. Circa 1890. Superbly rendered with fierce dragon spouting fire and protecting the pearl-of-life. Three toed dragon superbly rendered and of the highest artisan skills and quality. Very finely applied against a light grey en-plein enamel background, surrounded by a gold-stone border with mosaic cloisonne decoration. Magnificent detail to the dragon's head, eyes, horns, scales, and battling between spouting flames, with the dragon fiercely protecting his pearl*. Condition: Excellent condition and circular shape with no dents, creases or losses. Original untouched superb condition and polished to perfection. [Stand not included]. Dimensions: Diameter = 36 cm Height = 5 cm *In Asian culture, the dragon and pearl symbolize prosperity, wisdom, and spiritual energy. The pearl, often depicted with a dragon, represents enlightenment, power, and sometimes even the moon or thunder. Dragons themselves are revered as symbols of good luck, rain, and protection. The image of a dragon holding or chasing a pearl is a common motif in Asian art, representing the pursuit of knowledge and spiritual growth.
