Description

Antique oil on panel signed by the well listed artist Alfred Bastien (1873 - 1955). The painting shows a view of a White House at the end of a lane. It is signed by the artist and mounted in a green and gilt frame with slip. Alfred Bastien was a Belgian artist, born in Ixelles in 1873 and died in Uccle in 1955. He was a painter and draftsman. He was educated at the Academy in Ghent, under the direction of J. Delvin, and at the Academy in Brussels, under the direction of J. Portaels. He was co-founder of the Circle Le Sillon in 1893. In 1897 he won the Godecharle Prize. He stayed in Paris with his friends M. Wagemans, F. Smeers and M. Blicq where he became fascinated by Delacroix and Courbet. He was a realistic painter of landscapes, forest scenes, figures, nudes, portraits, marines, genre scenes, battle scenes, still lifes, flowers and monumental decorative canvases. His realistic style gradually freed itself from the sharp contours and his color palette gradually became brighter. He traveled to Egypt, England, Algeria, Congo and crossed the Sahara. Together with Ch. Leonard and Ph. Swynop, he painted the monumental Yser Panorama for King Albert I (1919-1920). He...
