Description

Size: 4ft 7in x 2ft 11in (140 x 90cm). A small Caucasian or Shahsavan kilim probably made from a pair of kilim mafrash panels. Circa 1900. This small kilim was probably once the two side panels of a mafrash bag, they have now been expertly joined to make a useful small kilim. They probably originate from the southern Caucasus, or possibly from the Shahsavan tribe. The two panels are woven in soumak technique. The kilim is in excellent condition with slight wear, there are a few scattered re-weaves especially in the kilim flatweave panels, these can be seen in the close up images. Stock Number: D-1248.
