Description

This Tsar Nicholas II Coronation Stein (1896) by Sarreguemines, France. This is a rare and well-preserved commemorative stoneware stein celebrating the coronation of Tsar Nicholas II and Tsarina Alexandra Feodorovna in 1896. The piece is a significant historical artifact from the late Russian Imperial period. Key Features: Central Design: The main body of the stein features a raised, relief-moulded design with the intricate interlocking Cyrillic initials of Tsar Nicholas II ("Н") and Tsarina Alexandra ("А"), surmounted by the Russian Imperial Crown. Date and Symbolism: Flanking the monogram are the Cyrillic month "МАЙ" (May) and the year "1896," the date of the coronation. Below the monogram is the double-headed Russian Imperial Eagle, a powerful symbol of the Russian Empire. Cyrillic Inscription: A prominent Cyrillic inscription in relief circles the bulbous base. It translates to: "In commemoration of the holy coronation of Their Imperial Majesties, the Emperor Nicholas II Alexandrovich and the Empress Alexandra Feodorovna. "Manufacturer: The underside of the stein is clearly marked "SARREGUEMINES" with the item number "2707" and a manufacturer's mark, confirming ...
