Description

A good example of an antique silver propelling pen and pencil. There are two sliding grips on each side, one for the pencil and one for the pen. It is a good quality piece and very well made. It is hallmarked for London, 1897 and the maker's Sampson & Mordan. There is also an additional maker's stamp "S.Mordan & Co". It is in good condition for its age. There are some faint surface marks and a few signs of use but no major damages and it displays well. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. Approximate Measurements : Length closed : 3 1/2" / 9cm Length open : 4 1/4" / 11cm The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
