Description

A very attractive antique Tabriz carpet with rich colours and beautiful classical medallion design. The weave is fine and the detailing is excellent. An extremely elegant antique carpet with a subtle red medallion and corner spandrel motifs. The background is an intricate network of lattice motifs with flowers. Woven around 1910-1920 in the north of Persia in the city of Tabriz. In good condition throughout with a soft pile that is medium high all over. It has been professionally washed by ourselves and it is ready to be used on the floor. We offer the service of viewing any of our carpets & rugs in-situ in London, Surrey, Hampshire, & all over the UK by appointment. We love to travel, and have been doing so since the early 90's having visited customers in Scotland, Ireland, France and Belgium helping them find the ideal carpet for their home. Please request a home visit below or email us if we can help you.
