Description

We are delighted to offer this stylish Victorian 15K gold antique pendant. (Please note, this listing is for the pendant only and does not include the antique belcher chain. We will, however, include a contemporary 9ct solid gold lace so it is ready to wear out the box). This pendant presents a wonderfully ornate and attractive design with three free moving sections. The top bail and pendant/locket allow for flexibility and movement upon wearing. The pendant presents a very elegant combination of deep-blue enamelling and half pearl lines with the opposing side being a hair locket. Underneath the pendant, an Etruscan-style drop is present and completes the overall look and style - a fabulous antique design bound to distinguish the discerning jewellery lover. Pearl is known to be the birthstone of June. A very special gift to a lucky individual or as an indulging gift to oneself. Perfect for wearing on special occasions and a conversation starter for antique jewellery lovers and those with an eye for classical elegance.
