Description

Large Antique Bronze Sculpture – Flute Player – Signed “Aug. Moreau” – French 19th Century This striking bronze sculpture depicts a graceful flute player, signed “Aug. Moreau” on the base. Auguste Moreau (1834–1917) was a celebrated French sculptor renowned for his lyrical and expressive works, often inspired by music and the elegance of the Belle Époque. Likely dating from the late 19th to early 20th century, this piece may have been produced by a reputable foundry using molds based on Moreau’s original models. The bronze features a warm, well-preserved patina that enhances its depth and character. Details: • Artist: Auguste Moreau (1834–1917) • Signature: “Aug. Moreau” on base • Date: Late 19th–early 20th century • Material: Bronze • Patina: Warm, original finish • Dimensions: Approx. 87 × 21 × 22 cm • Weight: Approx. 11.9 kg A fine example of French decorative art, this sculpture captures both the elegance of the subject and the artistry of one of France’s most beloved sculptors. Perfect for collectors of Belle Époque or classical bronzes.
