Description

A fine and rare Wedgwood Fairyland Lustre bowl in the Z4830 pattern, designed by Daisy Makeig-Jones circa 1915. The exterior in Orange Lustre with all-color stainings and mottling, predominantly blue and brown, is decorated with butterflies in fine gilding. The interior features Mother-of-Pearl Lustre with green stainings and a large central butterfly motif, hand-painted in iridescent detail. Measuring 5.2 cm high and 9.5 cm wide, this is a notable collector's piece, documented in Wedgwood's Decoration Book and highly desirable to serious collectors of Art Deco ceramics. With early Lustre becoming scarcer each year, pieces like this are increasingly viewed as both works of art and investment objects. The lustre colours are far more vivid in reality than any photograph can show; reflections in images are not defects. Condition: Excellent antique condition. Please study the accompanying photographs carefully as they form an integral part of this description. If you have any questions, we will be happy to answer them.
