Description

A Victorian silver pill or ring box with clear hallmarks for Birmingham 1889 and makers mark for Horton & Allday. The base is also engraved with the retailer's name ASPREY, 166 New Bond Street, W. The box was probably bespoke made for ASPREY to their design. The main feature of the design is the gadrooning of the sides and the lid in opposite directions, giving a dynamic and light catching effect. The base and lid have little pie crust rims. There is a smooth central shield for initials or crest, empty. The interior is gilded. The hinge is good and the lid closes perfectly. Exquisitely made, in excellent condition.
