Description

A fine Dutch bombe fronted cylinder bureau, dating to around 1800, richly decorated with exquisite floral marquetry. The cylinder front is inlaid with classical seated female figures, cornucopia, birds, and scrolling foliage, all crafted in contrasting light and dark timbers to create a striking visual effect. The interior reveals a well-fitted arrangement of drawers and pigeonholes with a central columned cupboard, also beautifully inlaid. The bombe lower section houses three graduated drawers with original brass handles, offering both elegance and practical storage.
