Description

A 19th Century English Burr Elm Segmented Top Centre Table. This beautiful table is veneered throughout in burr elm which has attained a fabulous golden colour. The top tilts, allowing it to be set against a wall if required. The table consists of a tripartite platform base on bun feet with castors. The support is a faceted column stem, with ebonised mouldings at the base. There is ebony stringing on the table top. The timbers on the top have been laid in segments. This table is of large size veneered entirely in burr elm.
