Description

Lovely Victorian walnut perpetual calendar 6" high x 4 1/2" wide at the base and dating from c1880. Often the interior paper fronts are missing on these but this one has its original in place, and it's nicely decorated and in excellent condition, no splits. The reels are all perfect with no splits or wear. This is in a lovely deep, warm walnut and is a particularly attractive example. It is in excellent original condition and if I had to be ultra critical I would add that there is a very tiny chip to the cornice, top left, but it is hardly noticeable and mentioned only for complete accuracy. It's particularly nice having the original Victorian decorative inner sleeve. Free UK shipping
