Description

Exceptional antique tan leather suitcase in original condition 26" wide x 16" deep x 8" high. This case has the additional rivetted corners that add strength to the case, and are certainly the reason it has existed for well over 100 years and has remained in such great condition. The leather handle is good and strong and the two solid brass locks spring perfectly. Inside is lined in a plain tan material, all in good, clean condition. This is superb example of antique luggage, ideal as a statement piece in more or less any setting. The deep, tan of the leather is just superb and this beautiful case is simply outstanding.
