Description

Late 19th Century Hand-Painted Leather Screen (c. 1890–1900) An elegant Victorian-era leather screen, hand-painted with pastoral and floral scenes — a decorative statement with over a century of history. Date: Late 19th century, circa 1890–1900 Origin: England Material: Genuine leather with rich, aged patina Design: Three-panel folding screen with arched tops Decoration: Hand-painted country and floral scenes in warm, natural tones Condition: Good; historical repairs present, adding to authenticity and character Function: Decorative statement piece, room divider, or backdrop Dimensions: H: 184cm (72.4") | W: 160cm (63") | D: 3cm (1.2") Delivery: Not included — please use the Request Delivery Quote feature before completing your order Heritage & Craftsmanship Crafted at the turn of the 20th century, this three-panel leather screen reflects the Victorian love of beauty and practicality. The hand-painted pastoral and floral scenes are rendered in soft greens, ochres, and warm browns, their gentle wear telling the story of a century's worth of rooms and lives. Arched tops add architectural grace, while the leather's natural patina and visible signs of age give it a depth a...
