Description

This is a stunning quality made Art Deco chrome clock by the English clockmakers Smiths - it has a converted movement to quartz and is in excellent working order having been fully serviced by a qualified horologist- it is a non chiming clock - it is quite heavy. Fabulous design and indeed dates from the 1930's, this really is a statement piece and a good sized clock and would make a real focal point to a mantle piece or maybe sideboard or desk. Cosmetic condition is very good with minimal signs of age to the dial and back plate. FREE UK MAINLAND DELIVERY
