Description

A fine Victorian mahogany four-tier whatnot, crafted in the Georgian style, dating to around 1880. The piece features four graduated tiers supported by turned baluster columns, topped with elegant finials, and finished with a useful single drawer with brass ring pulls to the base. Set on slender turned legs with brass castors, this versatile piece combines practicality with refined style. Perfect for displaying books, decorative objects, or collectibles, it is equally at home in a living room, study, or hallway.
