Description

A rare set of twelve Irish silver table/dinner forks. With so much antique flatware scrapped and melted in current times, a surviving set of twelve in Old English and Thread pattern is an extremely rare find. These are a fine matching set and are double struck (pattern front and back). There is a handsome armorial engraved to the top back of the shank. Table or dinner forks from this period are always in great demand, particularly Irish examples and these are heavy quality and good gauge. Dimensions below. Postage and packing £15.00 UK £25.00 Europe £35.00 Outside Europe Condition :- Excellent, with no dents or splits and the tines are in good condition, with slight rounding to the tips commensurate with age and use. There are age related scores to the sides of some of the shanks. Hallmarks :- Matching, clear and readable. Maker :- James England. (Jacob West - Alderman) Length :- 20.5 cms. Width :- 2.7 cms. Depth :- 1 cm. Weight :- 810 grams. Date :- Dublin 1819.
