Description

Technical Description A superb pair of 19th-century 'vaseline' wine glasses. They have ogee bowls with a band of cut and engraved festoons with engraved fleur-de-lis above each swag. A band of slice cuts at the base of the bowl above angular knop stems. Conical feet with snapped pontils. We have included a single picture of one of the glasses photographed under UV light. As you can see the effect is dramatic. Comments Vaseline glass is a term for the transparent yellow through yellow-green glass that owes its colour to the uranium content (which is perfectly safe to use). A rare set of glasses which we don't recall seeing before. Date & Origin England, c1870. Period of Victoria. Condition Excellent, no chips, cracks or restoration. Dimensions Height: 11.3cm Bowl diameter: 6.5cm Foot diameter: 6.5cm
