Description

Pair Edwardian cigar humidors in walnut, and in lovely original condition. The larger one is 26cm wide and the matching, smaller one is 18cm wide. They are made of figured walnut and on the top of each is inlaid a central oval figured walnut panel surrounded by a checkerboard inlay. Both boxes are lined in cedar, but the interior of the smaller one is dished, making it easier to remove the contents. The larger one is certainly for cigars, the smaller could be for cheroots, or maybe cigarettes. These are top quality pieces, made to the highest standards and I am surprised there isn't a maker's mark in evidence as they are certainly made by a top quality craftsman. Free UK postage
