Description

Circa 1820. An unusual interesting and stylish Dutch triangular shaped fold over card table, the top with canted corners, smothered in marquetry framed with double satinwood banding, the hinged top opens to reveal a green baize lined interior, inlaid with green wood and entwined with foliate inlay, resting on four square tapering legs which are smothered in marquetry as are the two hinged back rails which swing out to support the top when open. The interesting thing is the table can be folded down flat when not being used. 77cm High, 98cm Wide, 54cm Deep
