Description

A well-proportioned early 19th-century antique oak farmhouse table. The rectangular three-plank top shows a lovely colour and patina throughout. Raised on square chamfered legs, joined by a central stretcher, the table is both sturdy and practical. Finished with a natural wax, enhancing the grain and character of the oak. A versatile piece, suitable for use as a dining table or general farmhouse table. . Item Ref; M-6352 . DIMENSIONS: Height – 73cm / Width – 174cm / Depth – 69.5cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition overall, with signs of age consistent with use. There is surface wear, including age-related marks and scratches throughout. The top shows areas of loss, staining, and splitting, while the legs also display some losses. These features are typical of a working farmhouse table of this period and add to its rustic character and authenticity. Our experienced carpenter thoroughly inspects, repairs, and restores each item in our collection to ensure it is fully prepared for use in your home. For a clear and accurate understanding of each item's condition, we ask that you carefully review all provided photos. These images are an essential part of the descr...
