Description

A fine antique Victorian wooden coal scuttle complete with its original metal liner and matching shovel. Crafted in solid wood with brass side handles and decorative metal mounts, this piece combines practicality with traditional charm. The hinged front opens to reveal the original liner, while the shaped body adds both character and functionality. Retaining its original coal shovel with turned wooden handle, this is a particularly desirable example, as complete sets are increasingly hard to find. Presented in very good condition, with age-related wear consistent with its use and history, this coal scuttle makes a wonderful decorative accent as well as a collectible piece of fireside furniture.
