Description

A good quality golden oak partner's desk dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It has an arrangement of 18 drawers over both sides of the desk, allowing for two people to work simultaneously at the desk. The sides of the desk and even the inner sides of the kneehole are panelled. The top of the desk has an enormous green leather writing surface with a gilt tooled edge. Both pedestals sit on castors which does allow the desk to be wheeled and it splits into its three components for moving. The desk is in very good condition for its age and has been well looked after. It has a lovely rich patina and the drawers open smoothly. The inside of the drawers are generally clean and tidy with just some minor ink stains. There are some normal signs of age and use, some light surface marks and knocks around the base and a couple of old repairs but nothing detrimental and no major damages. It has been cleaned and lightly polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
