Description

A lovely antique toleware oil lamp, believed to be from a Railway Station Waiting Room. It is painted black with gilt lining and has a screw in brass burner complete with glass chimney. It has a mirrored reflector behind and an upright back with a hole in the back for hanging. The base acts as the oil reservoir and there is a small brass filler cap. It has been well used and has developed the most beautiful aged patina. The paint has rubbed and worn in places and there are a few small dents and dinks on the base but no major damages. I have not tested the oil burner but I see no reason why it shouldn't work as intended and the wick turners moves well. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Tracked UK Delivery £15
