Description

A good quality small writing desk from the late 19th / early 20th by the renowned makers James Shoolbred, showing characteristics of the Arts and Crafts movement of that period. Drawer stamped with "Jas Shoolbred & Co". One single drawer with reeded carvings and original brass handles. The overhanging top is connected to the legs by brackets fixed under each corner. The turned legs rest on the original porcelain castors. The inset leather top of a beautiful red colour with gold tooling is in very good condition and believed to be the original. Wear and tear commensurate with age and use, overall absolutely adequate to be enjoyed for many years to come. Dimensions: 91.5 cm x 47.5 cm x 74 cm h
