Description

A fine oak bureau dating from the early 20th century, showcasing elegant design and practical form. The fall front opens to reveal a fitted interior with pigeonholes and a small drawer, together with a green inset writing surface. Below are two drawers with decorative metal fittings, offering useful storage. The front is embellished with a carved motif of Art Deco influence, adding charm and character. Raised on turned supports united by stretchers, the piece is both sturdy and attractive. The bureau is offered in good condition, with light age-related wear consistent with use. Please note, the key is no longer present. A charming and practical piece of English oak furniture, ready to place and enjoy.
