Description

A striking Japanese four-panel folding screen, beautifully crafted in wood and lacquer. Each panel features intricate openwork lattice designs in the upper sections, complemented by finely carved floral and symbolic motifs that speak to traditional Japanese aesthetics. The lower panels are solid, adorned with embossed medallions and decorative reliefs, offering a rich contrast in texture and tone. The reddish-brown wooden frame pairs harmoniously with the black lacquered interior, creating a piece that is both visually balanced and culturally resonant. Ideal as a room divider or statement wall piece, it brings depth, history, and artistry to any interior.
