Description

Here we have a fantastic antique humidor. It has two panelled doors with the left door held in place with a catch top and bottom the right door has the lock which is complete with its key which is in working order. These doors are stamped with 'H'. UPPMAN' it also has original advertising labels inside of the doors which reads 'FABRICA DE TABACOS DE H. UPMANN HABANA'. The cabinet dates to circa 1880 and this beautifully made in fine quality cedar wood as is normal for good quality humidors. H. Upmann is among the oldest cigar brands in existence and are known for their fine quality cigars and it is said the Cuban H. Upmann Petit Coronas cigar was president J F Kennedy's favorite cigar. In 1843, banker Hermann Dietrich Upmann (16 May 1816 – 1894) arrived in Havana, Cuba, to arrange business affairs for the firm of Gravenhorst & Co., an importing and exporting firm located in Bremen, Germany. Seeing the potential for further importing opportunities, Upmann purchased a local cigar factory. The factory, located at 85 San Miguel Street, Havana, began producing cigars under the H. Upmann brand in 1844. We presume that this would have been used in a shop for advertising and...
