Description

A striking 19th century giltwood oval wall mirror in the Neoclassical style, richly decorated with carved detail and an elaborate urn and floral crest. The oval frame is adorned with laurel leaf swags and ribbons, interspersed with classical beading and delicate floral motifs. Above, a finely carved urn with scrollwork and trailing flowers adds height and elegance, making this mirror a statement piece for any interior. The original gilt finish has developed a warm, time-aged patina, enhancing the depth of the carving. The Mirror Has bevelled edge This mirror's generous proportions make it ideal for a hallway, above a console table, or as a feature piece in a formal reception room. Style: Neoclassical Date: 19th Century Material: Giltwood Condition: Good antique condition with minor wear and patina consistent with age. Height 96cm x Width 89cm x Depth 4cm
