Description

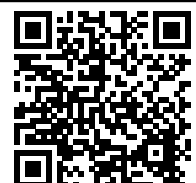

This beautiful antique Victorian sofa / settee with an ornately carved walnut frame and elegant button-back upholstery. The high, arched back is finished with intricate hand-carved detailing, while the deep-buttoned golden velvet fabric enhances its classic charm. The turned front legs are set on original castors, making it both practical and decorative. Its sweeping, scrolled arms and generous seat give it a refined yet comfortable presence. The rear of the piece reveals traditional 19th-century craftsmanship, with original webbing, hand-tied buttons, and wooden peg construction, all indicative of its authenticity and period quality. The frame is sturdy, with a wonderful patina that only time can bring. While the fabric shows some signs of age, it remains presentable, and the sofa could be enjoyed as is or reupholstered to suit personal taste. This sofa is perfect for those who appreciate Victorian design and period furniture. It would make a striking statement in a drawing room, study, or as an accent piece in a modern interior. A fine example of antique upholstery, it combines comfort, elegance, and history in one unique piece. Height: 40 inches (101.5 cm) Width: ...
