Description

An attractive pair of late Victorian giltwood and gesso mirrors with original gilding and good rococo design dating from around 1890. The pair are a lovely size with unusual smaller proportions than normal being just 45 cms in height by 35 cms wide overall at widest point. These neat mirrors are a very practical pair suitable for a multitude of situations. The pair are in really good condition for their age and retain their original plate glass set into the gilded wood surround which has a good rococo styling and handsome crest in the Prince of Wales Feather style. These came from a good property in Driffeld North Yorkshire. Provenance: From the residual contents of Scarborough Lodge. The mirrors measure 45 cms high by 35 wide by 4 deep overall. UK insured packing and delivery is £25
