Description

This is a good 19th century French repousse brass marginal mirror in excellent order with a central bevelled glass plate. The highly decorative brass frame is beautifully embellished with ornate scrollwork and the large crest has a fabulous twin dolphin design with a marvellous central flower filled urn, The brass has a great antique colour and the mirror glass is original in remarkably clean condition. The outer marginal mirrors have a very pleasing three dimensional effect created by the canted design that steps forward and back from the piece giving many faceted reflections. A very imposing and decorative example dating from around 1860. This measure 133 cms high by 67 cms wide to the extremities. UK delivery can be arranged with our trusted furniture courier and costs £60 plus vat to most destinations.
