Description

Antique Black Steamer trunk . A very rare trunk, ideal as a coffee table or blanket box. This is a very handsome large vintage 1920s steamer trunk, originally designed as a travelling wardrobe, this trunk has been neatly converted into a desirable low-profile coffee table and blanket chest with an interesting talking point. This well-made trunk is built from wood and finished with sleek black which is complemented by its bound and riveted edges. This solid construction provides an unusually robust structure that won't sag when used horizontally, unlike many less substantial trunks. The trunk is further strengthened via extensive hardware, including reinforced corners, hundreds of rivets, and multiple locating latches. A key feature is the fully working slam lock which comes complete with its two original Sheffield steel keys—a very rare find. A single leather handle is also fitted to one end for easy movement. The large interior, originally fitted for a traveller's clothes, has been cleanly stripped out for modern utility. This conversion now offers a generous, uninterrupted open storage space ideal for bedding, blankets, or cushions in any living room. This space is be...
