Description

A French hard-paste porcelain figure group by Niderviller, circa 1815. Two boys tussling on a rocky base; animated modelling and bright enamels typical of the period. Marks: factory unmarked; underside with incised No. 44. Fully glazed inner base with a dry footring, consistent with French manufacture. Niderviller was founded in 1735 in Lorraine and is well regarded for early 19th-century figural production.

A sought-after Niderviller figure of c.1815 with crisp modelling and good original color, appealing to serious collectors.
