Description

A very attractive pair of antique mahogany elbow chairs, designed in the manner of E.W. Godwin. Each chair features a shaped top rail above an elegant curved spindle back, with out-swept arms supported on turned uprights and raised on finely turned front legs with outswept rear supports. The generously overstuffed drop-in seats are upholstered in a patterned blue fabric, offering comfort as well as a pleasing contrast to the rich polish of the mahogany frames. This pair exhibits the refined lines and restrained elegance characteristic of the Aesthetic Movement, whilst retaining the practicality of everyday use.
