Description

A very smart pair of antique mahogany and leather side tables. They were made in England and date from around the 1900-1920 period. They are of very fine quality and are a very useful size to go either side of a sofa or as bedside tables. They sit on lovely straight edged legs with pierced fretwork under the corners. They have useful lower tiers and are finished on all sides, so can be used as free standing items. They are nicely finished on all sides, so can be used against a wall or as free standing items. We have had these recently re-polished, the condition is excellent for their age. The inset leather tops have some quite heavy patina particularly on one table, seen in the images, they are not torn or seriously damaged. We have left them original as we like the character but if the patina is too much, we can have the leather replaced quite easily for a small cost, to the colour of your choice. Width - 19 inches , 49 cm Depth - 16 inches , 41 cm Height - 26 inches , 66 cm
