Description

Very elegant and very good quality Georgian mahogany inlaid server or console table with chevron veneers, box wood and ebony stringing and stands on these fabulous square tapered legs with arched corners, circa 1830. Being a dining room server table, the full width drawer gives useful storage but this would also make a great console table in a hall with it being so decorative with those arched corners, it's a super piece and looks great from all sides. Wonderful colour to this piece having aged gracefully! Good pair of brass lions mask drop handles which although not the original, they work well on this piece style wise. Measuring: 31 3/4 inches or 81 cm high 44 1/4 inches or 112.5 cm wide 23 3/4 inches or 60.5 cm deep
