Description

A rare early Derby porcelain wine taster of circular form with moulded melon fluting to the outside with a concave lip just below the rim. An ornate shaped and moulded lug handle. Painted in a deep inky blue with a stylised flower painted to the centre and saw tooth decoration to the rim. Derby wine tasters with the shaped rim and cell border are all rarely found pieces, but this example is a much more unusual version in shape and decoration.

c.1768-1770. Reference: Ceramics Of Derbyshire, Bradley, plate 222 for another example. It measures 8cm (3 3/16") long, 6.1cm (2 3/8") wide and 2.4cm (15/16") high. In excellent condition: two nicks to the foot rim but no other damage, repair or restoration and minimal handling wear.
