Description

Charming set of four small cottage dining chairs in ash c.1820. Turned ash frames with low backs featuring a row of six lovely bobbin turned spindles between slightly curved back stretchers in the manner of Sussex country chairs whose design was revived later in the 19th.c. by Morris & Co. Single piece board seats (height 17") of pronounced grain, also with turned side rails and a cupid's-bow shaped apron to the front. Turned front legs and stretchers with extra turned detail to the front stretcher and the feet. Branded with the initials GM on the underside of each seat, presumed to be a maker's mark. Excellent colour and condition. Width: 18" (45.5 cm) Height: 35.5" (90 cm) Depth: 15" (38 cm)
