Description

A fine single fusee timepiece dating from the beginning of Queen Victoria's reign Circa 1840. The eight day movement with anchor escapement with a suspended pendulum bob with top adjustment, the pendulum using the full length of the case for better timekeeping. The ebonised case with canted corners and a stepped and chamfered top is in excellent original condition. The arched silvered roman dial is signed Phillips Bros, 31 COCKSPUR STREET, Haymarket LONDON behind a glazed arch door with silvered reveal. The sides having glazed panels framed with brass beading and a glazed back door. The Phillips Brothers were based at 31 Cockspur Street from 1839 until 1856. They were stockists of high quality clockmakers such as Thomas Cole. This clock is shown unserviced, it will be fully overhauled prior to sale and will come with our two year guarantee.
