Description

A beautiful pair of 19th-century side chairs, finely crafted in solid mahogany with exquisite hand-carved detail throughout. The high backs feature intricate scroll and floral motifs, pierced crest rails, and embossed leather panels with a decorative foliate design. The upholstered seats are finished in an elegant gold damask fabric with matching fringe trim, supported by turned and carved front legs united by a shaped stretcher with a central finial — a classic feature of late 19th-century craftsmanship. Perfect as accent chairs, hallway seating, or display pieces, these chairs combine refined ornamentation with timeless character. Seat height: 49 cm Very good antique condition. Solid and stable, with light wear to the leather consistent with age and use.
