Description

An elegant example of late Victorian craftsmanship, this double-ended sofa is beautifully framed in solid walnut, featuring intricate hand-carved floral and scroll motifs typical of the Rococo Revival style. The graceful silhouette includes a serpentine backrest, sweeping arms, and cabriole legs on original brass castors. The current deep blue velvet upholstery showcases classic button-tufting and complements the rich patina of the walnut frame. While the sofa remains structurally sound and visually striking, the fabric shows signs of age and would benefit from re-covering – offering an ideal opportunity to personalize the piece with your choice of luxurious material. Perfect as a statement piece in a drawing room, sitting area, or boutique interior. Dimensions Width 180cm Overall Depth 88cm Height 90cm Seat Depth 54cm
