Description

A late Victorian ebonised credenza, richly embellished with fine ormolu mounts and hand-painted porcelain plaques in the French Louis XVI style. The shaped front features a central panel adorned with an oval Sevres-style porcelain plaque depicting a romantic pastoral scene, framed by ornate gilt mounts. Matching circular porcelain roundels further decorate the frieze and door panels, adding symmetry and opulence. The credenza's flanking bow-fronted glazed display cabinets retain their original curved glass and velvet-lined interiors with brass inlaid shelves — ideal for showcasing fine porcelain or glassware. The top and borders are enhanced with delicate stringing, gilt beading, and a rich burr walnut banding that contrasts beautifully with the deep ebonised finish. Circa 1870-1890 Dimensions Width 151cm Depth 40cm Height 102cm
