Description

Fine and Highly Decorative German Silver Figure of a French King – Hanau, c.1927 A magnificent and ornately detailed German (Hanau) silver model of a standing French king, with London import marks for 'T C & Son Ltd', and attributed to Berthold Hermann Müller, circa 1927. The crowned and caped monarch is depicted holding a tapering scrolled shield beautifully decorated with fleur-de-lis and intricate motifs. His tunic and armour are exquisitely detailed, featuring an elaborate rosary across the chest. The figure has a finely carved ivory head and hands, the head crowned in silver, showcasing exceptional craftsmanship and realism. He stands upon a canted square base with a pierced scrolling foliate border, enhancing the piece's regal and decorative appeal. Height: 24 cm Weight: 19 oz Ivory Submission Reference: Y6G5AKK4 Before purchasing, Please note because of the ivory, shipping may not be allowed to your country. A superb and rare example of Hanau silver artistry, combining fine detail, historical charm, and exceptional mixed-media craftsmanship — an outstanding addition for serious collectors of decorative silver.
