Description

A fine antique French Louis XVI-style marble-top side table cabinet (circa 1900). The Breccia marble top with rounded edges above a frieze drawer and a cupboard door enclosing a marble-lined interior, retaining its original gilt-bronze (ormolu) mounts and brass ring handles. The body beautifully veneered in kingwood and tulipwood, arranged in a crossbanded and chevron parquetry pattern. Raised on elegant tapering legs with gilt-bronze sabots, the piece embodies the refined symmetry and craftsmanship of the Louis XVI period, combining utility with timeless decorative appeal. Highlights • France, Louis XVI revival, circa 1900 • Breccia marble top with moulded edge • One frieze drawer and lower cupboard with marble-lined interior • Kingwood and tulipwood veneer with parquetry design • Original gilt-bronze (ormolu) mounts and brass handles • Tapering legs with gilt-bronze sabots • Excellent colour and patina; ready to place Height: 83cm Width: 48 cm Depth: 38 cm Styling & Placement An elegant and versatile piece — ideal as a bedside cabinet, lamp table, or side table in a refined sitting room or bedroom.
