Description

A George II Walnut Chest Of Drawers of the most fabulous golden colour with untouched dry burnished surface. In wonderful condition retaining the original pierced brass handles and locks with exceptionally clean pine linings and the original pine ends that have never been veneered. Having a neat caddy mould to the top above two short and three long drawers. Featuring box wood stringing with matched walnut veneers and cross banding. A rare example of English period walnut furniture that has been allowed to develop a glorious colour without ever being stained or refinished.
