Description

A delightful authentic Edwardian ring, the kind of timeless treasure that transcends fashion and always represents the very best of taste and style — a cluster ring featuring a central pearl surrounded by old-cut diamonds. This elegant piece fits beautifully into the now highly desirable “old money” aesthetic. It looked refined when it was first made, looks equally exquisite today, and will surely retain its charm and class in decades to come. A classic design, thoughtfully composed and impeccably executed. The ring is made in 18ct gold (750 standard) with a decorative cluster of beautiful shiny pearl, surrounded by bright, well-matched old European-cut diamonds. It suits everyone and looks beautiful on any hand, in any setting — formal or casual. Details: • Ring size: UK M / US 6.5 • Diamonds: calculated approximate weight 0.36ct total, bright and well-matched • Metal: 18ct gold • Weight: 2.67g • Hallmarked inside the shank Condition: Excellent. Pearl retains beautiful colour and lustre. Secure setting. A highly wearable antique.
