Description

A lovely antique floor lamp base featuring rich detailing and a wonderfully aged brass patina. Crafted around the early 1900s, the piece is supported by a heavy cast base with incised diamond and scroll motifs and stands on three short feet for stability. The central column is flanked by twisted barley supports, each topped with finials. The top features a threaded fitting, originally designed to accommodate a lamp holder or shade carrier, making it ideal for restoration or repurposing as a statement lighting piece.
